

27 . Intensifiers and softeners

- 1. 1. His opinion is l.... b... on the knowledge he acquired in high school long time ago .
- 2. This phenomenon is l..... r..... to the problem described above.
- 3. The new murder is l..... c..... to the man who committed a similar crime 20 years ago.
- 4. L..... s..... notes are less readable .
- 5. The data that is l.... c..... is more protected against tampering by a bad actor .

- 1. Her remark was m..... o.....
- 2. I was m..... s..... to see Maria here amongst people she never liked .
- 3. The itchiness is m..... i.....ing not a big deal though.
- 4. Joe was m..... a.....d at the thought of meeting Clare at the party next week .

- 1. It was f..... r..... when he said that he's cat would be in his will along with his son and wife .
- 2. His attempts to speak in behalf of the racial minority came across f..... p.....ing and insincere .
- 3. She met his offer with a f..... a.....d smile.
- 4. Although it wasn't the first time he heard her speak , he nevertheless looked f..... s.....
- 5. The eagerness with which Jack was trying to explain thermodynamics to his grandma was f..... a.....

- 1. Teddy's girlfriend looked d..... s..... when they moved him to another zoo.
- 2. Stop torturing him! Don't you see he's already d..... a.....d ?
- 3. I have no idea what Mike was trying to say but his words came off d..... o.....
- 4. To her it was a d..... e..... moment which she will never forget .

- 1. Wasn't his unwillingness to help b..... o..... ? And still we were hoping to have him on our side .

- 1. The man's "serious injury " was w..... e..... by his own imagination .

2. The data that the article presented was w..... i.....

1. It was d.....r..... rude of him to bring attention to her overweight issue .

1. The mistakes he could have avoided were the cause of him being t.....
a..... of his dumb attitude .

2. As he had been seeking revenge for long years he was now t..... e.....
the downfall of his nemesis .

1. Surprisingly enough , the exam turned out to be d..... e.....

2. You are d.... r.... !

1. The room we were shown appeared to be uninhabited so s..... c..... it was .

1. Let me hire a handful of h..... e..... , ambitious people and put them in a small room . Then we'll see how much time passes by before they will be at each other's throat .

2. I h..... r..... you go see that movie .

3. It's h..... u..... we'll hear from them ever again .

1. His style of painting was s..... i..... by the early 17 century's Italian painters .

1. What you're saying is u..... r..... ! Stop it for Christ's sake !

2. We ended up moving to Haiti -which was u..... a..... - and staying there for two years .

1. The air never felt so c..... d..... , so unearth.

2. These two t..... s..... event were pulled together and made sense of by the investigator Ted Williams .

3. Consequently , Marta found herself e..... d..... on her husband's income .

Softeners

1 . Loosely

- based on
- related
- connected
- structured
- centered

2 . Mildly

- offensive
- surprised
- irritating / ed
- amusing / ed

3 . Faintly (formal)

- ridiculous
- patronizing
- amused
- surprised
- absurd

Intensifiers

1 . Deeply

- sad
- ashamed

- offensive
- emotional

2 . Blatantly

- obvious

3 . Wildly

- exaggerated
- inaccurate

4 . Downright

- 1 . rude

5 . Thoroughly

- ashamed
- enjoy / ed

5 . Dead

- right
- easy

6 . Spotlessly

- clean

7 . Highly

- educated
- recommended
- unlikely

8 . Strongly

- influence/d

9 . Greatly

- influence/ d
- appreciate/ d

10 . Utterly

- ridiculous
- absurd

11 . Thoroughly

- enjoy / ed

12 . Completely / totally / entirely

- different
- separate
- dependent

! Absolutely collocates only with adjectives that have strong meanings ;

- absolutely (NOT ~~very~~)fantastic
- very (NOT ~~absolutely~~) happy