

Justice served

#PHR

1 . Justice was finally served

A proper punishment or fair treatment was given by the legal system .

- On July 1st 1992 justice was finally served and Joe , who was found guilty for what he hadn't done , was released.
- After justice is finally served ,we will get our piece of the land .

2 . I like to walk barefoot in the grass

Barefoot is having no shoes or socks on . Also but less commonly - in bare feet .

To walk IN the grass has the same logic as walking IN the woods (literally walking in between plants or trees)

- I go to my yard and walk barefoot in the grass every morning . It gives me energy and that's a very pleasant feeling .

3 . To pass judgment on someone

To criticize someone from a position of assumed moral superiority

To express a strong opinion about somebody

- Don't be in a hurry to pass judgment on somebody until you have more information.
- They passed judgment on her before even hearing what she had to say simply from the way she looked .

4 . His fate was sealed

To make the future that someone will have certain .

- I knew my fate was sealed when I saw her at the train station .
- When he started to run with the bad crowd his fate of becoming a criminal was sealed .

5 . A decision that spells death or life

A crucial decision

- Taking or not taking prescribed drugs to treat a mental issue very often is a decision that spells death or life .
- Let's be more careful about hiring a new CEO . In the current situation we are going through this decision spells death or life .

6 . We will max out

To reach the limit at which nothing more is possible .

- Now we are going at 100 mph and I think we will max out at 110 mph
- The deWalt bit maxed out at 65 pounds / inch and cammed out stripping the screw completely .

7 . We're not going to raise parrots that will rehash their masters's voice

To bring about people who will have no personal view and will only repeat after their patrons .

- I want the next generation to be able to think critically and brave enough to speak up . But now we're raising parrots who will rehash their masters's voice .

8 . He is a typical do-it-yourselfer

A handy man , a man who trusts nobody and prefers to undertake important job on his own .

- My dad is a typical do-it—yourselfer . He'll never call in a professional if he can do it on his own .

9 . It speaks volumes

Be good evidence for ..

To show something very clearly .

- The fact she decided to stay when everybody was leaving speaks volumes about her loyalty.
- What she's done speaks volumes . Why do you need more evidence of her dedication ?

10 . At this point in time

Right now or in the near or foreseeable future .

- At this point in time I can't assist you ,but I'll still let you know if an opportunity arises .
